Good Luck Zoe
It is with mixed emotions that we farewelled Zoe from our school this week. Zoe is moving to a new house and school in Bega. Zoe has been a big part of Budawang School for many years. Some of our current staff remember Zoe as a 5 year old when she first started here. We will miss not seeing Zoe’s smiling face each morning but wish her the best of luck!

Disco Fever
Thank you to all the parents and carers who attended our school Disco last week. It is great to see our students let their hair down and enjoy themselves. It was encouraging to see so many of our parents take this opportunity to talk with other parents who share the experience of raising a young person with a disability. The children were still talking about the disco the next day and lots of them shared their experiences during the news section of our assembly the following day.

Egg Cartons
Angela’s Mum is on the lookout for old egg cartons, preferably in good condition as they will be used for holding eggs. If you have any that you don’t need she would be very grateful if you could send them to the school office to pass on.

Swimming money
Of all the programs that we run at Budawang School the swimming program is the one that is talked about most often by students, teachers and parents alike. We would like to remind you to please make sure that you are up to date with your swimming money. The cost is $2 per week per child. If you are unsure if you are up to date please contact Sylvia in the office on 44551491 during school hours.

Adult Education Class- how to apply for grants
Amanda Bowman from Ulladulla Public Schools PandC has phoned our school to flag an adult education class. It will be held on the 24th April from 9:00 to 3:30. The topic is how to apply for grants. The cost will be approximately $60. More information to follow.
Blue Class blues
The Blue Class has been very small over the last two weeks. Like so many other classes in the school we have had a number of students sick. Each morning we count how many students we have in our class for the day and place photos of the children on our board. Some days we have had to put more photos under the home symbol than at school. I would like to take the opportunity to thank the parents and carers for keeping their children at home while they are unwell as it helps to stop the spread of germs to other, perhaps more vulnerable, students. We look forward to having all our friends healthy and back at school next week.

Zoe’s final week in the Red Class
The Red Class has had an up and down week or two. We have enjoyed a fantastic couple of lessons in the saddle, some unbelievably good cooking lessons and some really mature experiences in the community. Literacy and numeracy lessons have been great also but the whole time has been touched with a little sadness with the departure of the wonderful Zoe to Bega. Much love and luck to you sunshine, all the best to you and your wonderful grandparents.

The Green Class has some pen pals
Kelly was lucky enough to teach Michael’s old class at Sanctuary Point early this week. The children were very excited when she talked about Michael, so as part of their literacy lesson they all wrote Michael letters. Kelly then taught the Green Class on Thursday and as part of their literacy lesson they all read the letters that Michael’s friends had written. It thank you Kelly for providing such an authentic way for our students to practise their literacy skills.

Visiting the park and cooking with the Yellow Class
The Yellow Class recently visited the new park at Narrawallee Inlet. There are different swings, twirling activities and a large climbing and slide complex. We have also enjoyed our cooking classes and we made a delicious pasta and meatball dish. This recipe was decided upon after listening to the Spaghetti Bolognese song.

Week 7
Blue Class- Lashawn Donnelly for putting his face in the water when swimming and coming up with a smile.
Red Class- Leilani Mitchell for great enthusiasm and excellent progress I horseriding, even trotting.
Green Class- Julia for being brave with your broken leg and still working hard.
Yellow Class- Tyran Greenhalgh for participation in morning circle.

Week 8
Red Class- Jada Vaughan for excellent contribution to literacy activities and mature class behaviour.
Green Class- Lilly Dixon for being such a great friend
Yellow Class- Tye Fellows for increased participation during deskwork and Morning Circle
Blue Class- Declan Ford for excellent skills when using technology.
